WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP TOUR SHAPER RANKINGS REPORT 2014 & 2015

We all want to surf better, right? Right!

And choosing the right board for the right conditions is a critical, if not the critical decision to improving your performance in the water.

The team here at Boardthought have put together this great little free report to help you along the way in choosing the right shaper and board. And what better way to make the right decision than to understand what boards the pros were riding in 2014 and 2015!

The World Championship Tour Shaper Rankings Report 2014/15 ranks the performance of the top 6 shapers on the 2014 and 2015 men's world championship tour, based on representation of team riders from the quarter finals through to the finals of each event.

From the Gold Coast Quiksilver Pro to the Billabong Pipe Masters, the report highlights which shapers lead the charge on the WCT in 2014, and which are posting high scores in 2015 so far. It's the perfect quick guide for surfers wanting to step-up their game.

The limits in surfing are being pushed further and further every day, and surfing at your best means having the right board. Understanding how the shaper's of the pro's ranked in 2014/15 will ensure you make the right decision when choosing your next stick!

Check it out.

Cheers,
